Supporting programs that help students receive the supplies they need is important for our community as a whole and a program we have supported year after year. This year, we have identified a need to provide for the teachers in our community as well. Each year, teachers spend an estimated $200-$300 out of their own pockets to ensure their classroom has what it needs to provide a quality education for the children in our community. Items like tissues, dry erase markers, cleaning supplies and special projects are often funded at the teachers’ own expense. The School Supply Assistance Program is designed to address this need and help teachers in our community with the extra supplies they purchase. Through this program educators can receive access to up to $500 towards school supplies, interest free. Help us thank a teacher this year by sharing this program with a teacher you know and love.

School Supply Assistance Program is available to all New York State Certified Teachers who are currently employed as an educator in New York State. Proof of employment required. Promotion may be discontinued at any time. Through this program, members will have a 9 month term to repay the loan with 0.00% Annual Percentage Rate (APR). Federally insured by the National Credit Union Administration.
Fall is typically the best time to buy a car. This time of year dealerships have already received next year's new models and need to make room for new inventory.

Combined with the fact car salespeople work on commission and also might have to meet a monthly, quarterly, or annual goal with the possibility of a special bonus, they are going to do what they can to clear this year's models off their lot.

If you're not quite ready to purchase a vehicle just yet, here are other ideal times that you might want to consider.

• End of the year. By showing up to the dealership close to New Year's Eve, you may find a dealership hoping to meet or exceed their annual sales goal and eager to move out this year's model before next year.

• Tax season. Money dries up for a lot of people around tax time, and new car sales tend to suffer. If you stroll in around mid-April, you may find salespeople happier than ever to help you spend.

• Memorial Day Weekend. Some car buyers say this is the absolute best time to buy. Dealers want to free up space in anticipation of next year's models arriving soon. You could get a current-year car at a big discount, with a warranty whose clock has just started running.

• Labor Day Weekend. Now that the new models are here, and the current-year models are looking old. There may be less competition from folks who bought a car on Memorial Day or spent all their money on summer vacation. Expect deep discounts.

• End of the quarter, month, or even day. If the sales rep or dealership is just short of reaching a goal, they may be willing to make concessions to close a sale. One buyer found “the best deal ever” when he took his fiancée in at 5 p.m. on Valentine's Day. “The sales rep, his boss, and the finance guy were all but tossing us the keys for the new car” so they could leave to get to their own wives and girlfriends, he reported.
